Whiteman AB Gives United Fund Checks Three Communities Receive $12,200 In Contributions

Whiteman Air Force Base on Thursday afternoon presented $12,200 in United Fund checks to Sedalia, Warrensburg and Windsor.

The presentation was made at a luncheon of the Officers Club with Col. A. J. Beck, 340th Bombardment Wing commander, and Col. Charles V. Neil, base commander as hosts to representatives from the three communities.

Accepting a check for $7,500 for Sedalia was W. C. Ream, city clerk, on behalf of Mayor Julian H. Bagby, who is out of town. With Ream was Clinton Muller, United Fund chairman in Sedalia.

Warrensburg received $4,200 and Windsor was presented $500. The distribution of funds was based on an interpolation of the number of WAFB personnel living in the communities and the population of those communities. Knob Noster and La Monte did not receive checks because they have no United Fund organization which could receive it, but their shares were added to the Warrensburg and Sedalia checks because the money will be distributed to the county and national agencies those two communities would normally support.

Of the amount given to Sedalia, the agencies will receive their shares in this way: Community Chest, $4,000; Salvation Army, $1,500; Cancer Fund, $900; Heart Fund, $600; Cerebral Palsy, $300; and Muscular Dystrophy, $200.

In addition to the United Fund money, E. A. Goodwin, Red Cross representative at the base will receive a check later for $2,000 to go to the local chapter to augment contributions to national charities which the community supports.

This is Whiteman AFB's first United Fund drive. It began Jan. 15 and ran for ten weeks with a goal of a full day's pay from every one at the base, including civilians working there. A total of $18,211.26 was contributed. Of this amount, $2,211.26 went for an emergency relief fund at the base and for some expenses incurred during the drive. A single drive was adopted to eliminate the many previous drives which took valuable man-hours and money to operate.

The Air Force encourages its personnel to participate in the activities of the communities in which they live and the success of the drive was described as an indication that they are accepting their responsibility.

Big Show Scheduled for Public--

Base Will Open Gates On Armed Forces Day

Plans for the celebration of the nation's seventh annual Armed Forces Day are in full swing at Whiteman Air Force Base and an interesting and informative program is being scheduled for May 19-20 by base officials.

Armed Forces Day is celebrated throughout the world by the defense forces each year to give the civilian populace a close-up look at installations and equipment and a better understanding of fighting forces. Last year, 15,000 people toured Whiteman Air Force Base despite inclement weather; and a larger crowd is expected this year.

Aircraft, both on static display and flying overhead, are again expected to be the center of attraction.

On display both days will be 16 different types of aircraft flown by the Air Force, Army, and Navy, including the Boeing six-jet B-47 bomber and the Boeing KC-97 air refueling tanker based at Whiteman. Civilians will get the rare opportunity of going through the aircraft which will be explained to them by the flight crews.

On Sunday, May 20, formations of B-47 and KC-97 aircraft will fly overhead in an aerial demonstration and the crowd will witness an actual aerial hookup simulating a refueling operation between the KC-97 and the B-47. Fighter and cargo type aircraft are also included in the aerial demonstration.

Lt. Col. Harry W. Robb, deputy base commander and Armed Forces Day project officer, said "Guests will be invited to tour the

Gives Progress Report--

Dag Hammarskjold Reports New Cease-Fire Agreements

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold told the Security Council today he has obtained new unconditional cease-fire agreements from Israel and her four Arab neighbors—Egypt, Lebanon, Syria and Jordan.

He told the Council in a "progress report" the next step in the uneasy Middle East situation is with other sections of the general armistice agreements of 1949, which ended the Palestine fighting.

There are indications he may return in June to work for such compliance and put the cease-fire agreements on a more solid basis.

Hammarskjold thus completed the first part of the assignment given to him by the Security Council April 4. He filed his report to the Council president, Ambassador Joza Brilej of Yugoslavia, from Jerusalem, where he engaged in last-minute talks with Israeli officials.

He will go next to Cairo for a brief conversation with Egyptian officials and then fly to Rome. He huge maintenance shops and hangars. They'll see a demonstration of firefighting by the base fire department and the base sentry dogs will also be put through their paces by the Air Police handlers.

Buses will tour the base at 15-minute intervals to afford the visitors an opportunity to see the entire installation.

There will be something of interest to every visitor from the time the gates open at 11 a. m. until they close at 5 p. m.

Denies Using White House Connections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Murray Chotiner, 1952 campaign manager for Vice President Nixon, testified today two White House officials made telephone calls for him on behalf of his law clients.

Chotiner emphatically denied, however, he ever used his connection with Nixon or any other government official to seek favors he represented in dealing with government agencies.

Chotiner told the Senate Investigations subcommittee that "on one or two occasions" phone calls were made for him at the White House to get information about pending cases of his or to set up appointments with government officials.

He named the officials who made these calls as Maxwell M. Rabb, President Eisenhower's assistant in charge of minority problems, and Charles F. Willis Jr., former White House patronage aide in the Eisenhower Administration.

Chotiner was called in the committee's investigation of alleged payoffs to government officials by Atlantic City garment manufacturer Herman Kravitz and Associates.

The Los Angeles attorney said he represented, solely as a lawyer, both Kravitz and Marco Reginelli, Philadelphia area garment industry figure.

Chotiner said the White House calls were not related "in any way whatsoever" with either of these clients.

In bringing up Reginelli's name, subcommittee counsel Robert F. Kennedy described him as "the top hoodlum in the New Jersey-Philadelphia area."

Radar 'Catch' Is Heavy

36 Motorists Are Given Summonses In School Zone; Checked Two Hours

Thirty-six motorists were checked Thursday morning by radar going through the Horace Mann school zone over the 15 mile zone limit and received tickets to appear in police court. Nine of the violators appeared at police headquarters and posted cash bonds to appear in police court Friday.

The radar check which started last Monday officially has resulted in the apprehension of many motorists who absently minded drive over the posted speed in the various zones.

Efforts to curb the speed through school zones have been unsuccessful over recent years, but with the modern radar speed checker it appears as if more attention will be paid to the speed laws from now on.

The radar was set up on 16th street about 8 a. m. and the checking started. Late risers hurrying to get to their work failed to heed the 15-mile-an-hour speed law and as a result were stopped a short distance after passing the school by the police who waited notification from the radar operator.

In 2 1/2 hours 36 tickets were issued to persons driving from 10 to 25 miles per hour over the speed limit.

"The city has been well posted for more than two months, with speed and radar signs. Special zones such as school, hospital, downtown, parks and so forth, likewise have been posted. The delay in putting to use the radar was to give the motoring public an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the speed laws and zones," Chief Edgar Neighbors said.

Continuing he said, "we operated the radar for more than ten days on tests and issued courtesy warnings to many motorists. During that time the officers did make several arrests but those were of persons who were way out of line, but the general use was for courtesy operation."

Committee Okays Construction For Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today approved a 40 million dollar construction program for Army reserve training facilities and National Guard armories.

The committee recommended that Congress give the Army just what it asked for buildings in which to carry out an expanded beefing-up of Uncle Sam's standby forces.

In testimony before the Committee Col. William R. Shuler, construction division chief for the Army's deputy chief for logistics, declared:

"All of these projects are needed now. They are for units now activated and meeting in someone's back office, in warehouses, in garages and schools."

He said the training facilities were mandatory "if we are going to give a realistic training program."

The reserve training buildings approved, on which the federal government would pay the entire cost, include these in Missouri (number of men designed for and cost, in that order):

Bethany 100, $79,000; Fulton 100, $79,000; Maryville 200, $184,000.

New Nuclear Tests Scheduled to Start Tomorrow on Eniwetok

KWAJALEIN (AP)—The opening shot of the new series of nuclear tests, an explosion officially described as "in the kiloton range," is scheduled early tomorrow at Eniwetok Atoll.

An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman said newsmen and federal civil defense representatives would be flown to Eniwetok to see this opening shot in addition to the later scheduled burst of a big multimillion-ton energy hydrogen bomb.

The weather, of course, will decide whether the scheduled little kiloton fission bomb will be fired tomorrow.

The newsmen and defense observers will see the explosion from a vantage point on a pier at Eniwetok.

Officials declined to indicate the type of the bomb or whether it would be fired from a tower, the ground or airdropped. However there was speculation it might be the warhead for a missile, tested in conventional manner.

Army Private Crashes Kelly-Ranier Wedding

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Aggrieved at being "left off" the guest list for the Kelly-Ranier wedding in Monaco, a St. Louis army private and his two buddies stationed in Germany did something about it.

They rented top-hats and tails at a shop in Frankfurt, Germany, and then drove to the wedding. After crashing the cathedral for the ceremony, the three went to the reception and feasted like they never had in the Army—champagne and caviar.

The St. Louisan, 21-year-old Pfc. Philip J. Leahy, reported the event in a letter home. His two buddies were not identified.

Three Youths Held In Store Robbery Here

Allegedly Struck And Robbed Owner At Ewers Market

Three juveniles, two 14 year-old and one 15, are being held in the Pettis County jail in connection with the hi-jacking of W. C. Ewers at Ewers Food Market, 323 North Engineer, about 5:30 p. m. Wednesday.

According to the police, two boys went into the store and struck Mr. Ewers, who is 75 years old, on the head, and then bound and gagged him. They took a five-dollar bill, ten one-dollar bills from the cash register and some change, then ran from the place.

Ewers freed himself and called the police within a few minutes. Police arrived on the scene and obtained information regarding the boys' description and then started out to search for them.

Officer Jay Nicholson was riding the motorcycle headed west on Third street and, upon nearing Third and Lamine, saw two boys answering the description turn in to the Sedalia Cafe. Parking the cycle, he went in to check and found they had gone into the St. Francis Hotel. Following them there, he learned the boys had met a third boy and went into the men's rest room.

Nicholson stayed in the lobby and waited the boys out. They came out, walked out in front and as they stepped out on the sidewalk, Nicholson stopped them and searched the smallest one. The boy carried a .38 caliber pistol fully loaded and some extra shells in his pocket.

"That's all boys," Nicholson said and then sat them down in chairs in front of the hotel and summoned a police car to take them to the police station.

Two of the boys, according to the police, readily admitted the hi-jacking to Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors and Cecil Glenn, juvenile officer. They told the officers they had robbed Mr. Ewers and then met the third boy to divide the money. According to their statements, they had planned on running away from home after getting some money.

Ewers was taken to the Bothwell Hospital with a cut on his head which necessitated three stitches to close. He also suffered shock. He was admitted to the hospital for further observation. Dr. D. P. Dyer attended him.

Co. Fire Truck Moves To The New Building

The Pettis County Fire Department has moved into its new building at Main and State Fair Blvd. The new telephone number is 6464. Construction of the building started in December 1955 and the department began its operation officially on December 1.

A total of 41 runs have been made by the department and several of the calls have been to fires where considerable property was saved due to the efforts of the county firemen.

Several letters of commendation have been received from persons who have seen the department in action.

4 Break-ins Admitted By Two Boys

Four recent break-ins were solved Thursday morning by the police who uncovered the two boys who caused all the trouble. They were two youngsters, one seven and the other eight years old. Both boys admitted the incidents to the police officers.

At 8:13 a. m. police received a call to the Missouri Pacific stockyards that a break-in had been made and a small fire of waste was started.

Police made an investigation and about 15 minutes later Officer Perry Franklin returned to the police station with the two boys.

Several days ago Franklin stopped a small boy and looked at the bottom of his shoes. This morning he noted near the window broken out where they entered the place that there was a small footprint in the damp dirt, which indicated the lad had a hole in his shoe. Remembering the incident several days ago, he went to school, had the boy called out, checked the shoe and that was when the boy admitted his part.

The boys told Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors and Cecil Glenn, juvenile officer, they had entered Hopper's Market and broke the Car Overtakes On East Curve At Dresden

No One Injured; Driver Is Found At Whiteman AFB

A 1956 Chevrolet convertible was extensively damaged about 1:45 a. m. Thursday when it missed the east curve at Dresden, hit the ditch, rolled over and stopped on its right side. The car came to rest in the front yard of S-Sgt. L. W. Worley, Whiteman AFB, who with his family had moved into the house the first of the week.

The car was believed to have been driven by 1st Lt. Daniel Williams of the 340th ARS, Whiteman Air Force Base, according to papers of ownership of the car and a coat in it bearing the lieutenant's name. It was not learned immediately if he had been injured, other than a phone call received by the police about 2:45 a. m. that he was being taken to the air base hospital.

Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle of the State Highway Patrol went to the scene and made an investigation. He then drove to the base hospital, where up until 3:30 the man had not appeared.

The base information office reported later Thursday morning that Lt. Williams had been driven to the base by a passing motorist, an Air Force serviceman, and that since the lieutenant was not injured, he decided to go to bed. After the Patrol inquired at the hospital, the officer of the day and the Air Police roused Lt. Williams from his bed and took him to the hospital for an examination, during which an alcohol test proved negative. He was then released to return to duty. He told the authorities that he had intended to report the accident first thing in the morning.

The car was towed to the Hamilton Service Station by a wrecker from there.

Sum Is Billion More Than Given For This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Voicing concern over Russia's growing military might, the House Appropriations Committee voted today to give the Defense Department $33,635,066,000 in new money.

This is $512,784,000 less than the total President Eisenhower asked in his original budget last January and in a supplemental request last month for the book-keeping year starting July 1.

But more than half of the reduction was made up of paper changes which the committee said would not affect specific military programs. The committee said it expects that $276,319,000 of the cut will remain available in the form of foreign currency under mutual defense and occupation agreements.

The amount recommended is $1,741,832,374 more than Congress appropriated for the present year ending June 30.

The recommendations were contained in a bill which the House will consider next week. The Senate will act later.

The committee said emphasis during the coming year will be on airpower and new weapons "being phased in at an increasing rate."

The new money, plus funds carried over, would give the Defense the new fiscal year, it contemplates military strength of 2,965,200 in mid-1957, compared with 2,820,100 next June 30.

Here's how the new dollars would be shared among the services:

Army — $7,497,502,000, a budget cut of $263,843,000 but $167,629,000 more than this year.

Navy — $999,534,000, a budget cut of $48,066,000 but an increase of $871,774,444 over this year.

Air Force — $15,479,125,000, a budget cut of $187,375,000 but an increase of $739,361,830 over this year.

The rest of the money in the bill was allotted to the office of the secretary of defense and to interservice activities, none of which was cut deeply.

The committee called for a "comprehensive and integrated" plan of scientific research to prevent Russia from overcoming "our present marginal superiority" in development of advanced weapons and equipment.

Arms Shipments Are Red Plan to Gain Hold in Middle East

LONDON (AP)—The London Daily Telegraph said today large shipments of Czech arms have started reaching Syria as part of a Communist plan to gain a foothold in the Middle East.

The report, which could not be confirmed by official British sources, said arms shipments are flowing into Syria under an agreement signed six weeks ago. Egypt already has been receiving Czech arms under a similar agreement with the Reds.

Cooperative Occupational Education Class Has Banquet

The Cooperative Occupational Education class of the California High School held its fifth annual banquet in honor of the employers April 26 at Ray's Cafe.

The banquet table was lighted by 54 candles, representing a student, his employer or a guest.

Bill Scott, president of the C.O.E. Club, served as master of ceremonies. Other officers of the class are, Earl Friedmeyer, vice-president; Catherine Garnett, secretary and Dorothy Leonard, treasurer.

The banquet and program began with Les Laws asking the blessing. Each student introduced his employer and their guest. Entertainment was furnished by a boys quartette under the direction of Melvin Peterman. The members of the quartette were J. David Gattermeir, Earl Friedmeyer, Jim Shores and Paul Lebeck Jr.

Dr. George Riley, superintendent of schools, introduced the guest speaker Dr. Irvin F. Coyle, director of teacher education, State Department of Education, Jefferson City. Among other things, he pointed out that vocational choice is very important and that education does not lessen work but generally allows the individual more choice with reference to jobs.

Herman Hoffman is the co-ordinator for the 23 students in the Cooperative Educational Education class.

In 1933 the first C.O.E. program was started in the schools of Jacksonville, Fla. A year later the program was begun in Missouri, at Columbia. Now Missouri is the leading state in the nation in this type of education, with about 89 coordinators in 73 progressive cities operating successful programs.

Both the students and employers are carefully selected by the coordinator. The student should be ambitious. He or she must have a school record of good attendance, excellent conduct, good physical condition and scholarship. It is an honor for an employer and his business to be designated as a training agency. In many cases the employer and trainer is considered a teacher off campus.

A student must be a junior or senior and at least 16 years of age to be eligible for the program. Students working on the job are paid by their employers and receive a wage comparable to that paid other beginning workers in that field.

Two units of high school credit per year are allowed the student for the work on the job and the C. O. E. class in school. Two additional academic courses are taken to complete the standard four units for the year's work. Units in C. O. E. class are accepted toward college entrance requirements for those who wish to continue their education in college.

The C. O. E. students in the California High School on the average work 29 hours per week. The total salary earned by the class for a nine months period amounts to over $13,000.00.

The C. O. E. program is considered by educators and leading business men alike as an effective means of introducing you into industry. Both students and the community profit through this progressive program in the school.

Buick SUPER 6-Door Passenger 2-Door Riviera, Model 54R

even before you Switch the Pitch

TORQUE is for take-off—and there's plenty of it here.

You just apply a puny bit of pressure on the pedal—and you're off and away. Never has such quick acceleration been so smooth.

It's the newest step-up in Variable Pitch Dynaflo®—and it gives a double-barreled thrill.

First, it delivers a record amount of torque to turn those rear wheels—even before you switch the pitch. You splurge on pickup while saving on gas.

The second is for real zoom service. Just put your foot down—and there you have it. You switch the pitch and Dynaflo serves up a dazzling burst of extra power to cut seconds off your passing—and add new safety to it.

But there's a lot more than torque to talk about.

There's Buick styling. Its flair and sweep alone have started many a conversation. On lines that are daring, but not reckless. On colors and interiors that are gay and stunning, but never garish.

And there's the Buick ride. Unlike any other. Softer, yet steadier. Cradling you in rubber-bubble comfort—leveling with you on every twist and turn.

A whole group of unseen marvels screen you from the harsh realities of the road. Including a new front-end geometry—new deep-oil-cushioned shock absorbers—new deep-coil springs on all four wheels. And there are new stabilizers and a new torque tube, to snub out any swing or sway.

In short, there's so much excitement from stem to stern—in any Buick you can buy—that Buick owners have a whale of a lot to talk about.

So why not take a Buick out on the road yourself, so you'll know what all the talk's about? Don't say you can't afford it until you hear us talk price. We're real—even you are.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Donations of Surplus Foods Top Last Year

Donations of surplus foods during the first nine months of the current fiscal year exceed the total donations for the entire fiscal year ending June 30, 1955 by nearly 500 million pounds. The total for the 1955 fiscal year was just over a billion pounds, for the first nine months of the current year the figure was 1.4 billion pounds.

The figures just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, according to Murray C. Colbert, chairman of the Missouri State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, is an indication of the stepped-up efforts being made to move surplus commodities into consumption. Of the 1.4 billion-pound total donated from July 1, 1955, through March of this year, products donated domestically to schools, institutions and the needy totaled nearly 560 million pounds. Last year the domestic total was less than 400 million pounds. Products donated for foreign consumption during the first nine months of the current year came to more than 840 million pounds compared with 542 million pounds for all of last year.

Dairy products — butter, butter oil, cheese, and nonfat dry milk — make up well over half the total donations during the nine-month period this year, with nonfat dry milk making up more than 400 million pounds. More than three-fourths of the dry milk went to foreign countries.

National Home Demonstration Week Style Show

A style show was held April 30 at the Fox Theatre in recognition of National Home Demonstration Week. The status of rural women and extension work has advanced a great deal from "The Soup Lady" with her horse and buggy as the leader of rural education programs in 1912.

Forty-one county extension club clothing leaders in attractive, becoming, appropriate costumes modeled the dresses they had made in their clothing training meetings on "Simple Dress Construction." Interest in this phase of the extension program is substantiated by the attendance of 300 women at this event. Musical entertainment was furnished by the junior boys' quartet from the Smith-Cotton High School.

In Pettis County approximately 700 homemakers are enrolled in extension clubs with the aim of better family, community and personal living.

Asparagus a Spring Treat

Asparagus is a one season crop. It can be bought fresh only in the spring. During the other seasons of the year it is bought canned or frozen. The civilian per capita consumption of processed asparagus is larger than that of commercially grown fresh asparagus.

"Green" asparagus is preferred in this section of the country and in the East and South, but in the West and Northwest "white" asparagus is also popular, particularly for commercial canning.

"White" asparagus is usually obtained by deep planting and by banking dirt up around the shoots, although some special varieties grow white without this assistance.

In buying fresh asparagus it is wise to choose the fresh, crisp stalks with unbroken tips, and to avoid stalks that are thin, wilted, old, tough, or woody. Loose tips indicate that the asparagus is too old. The very young tender asparagus not only tastes better but has higher food value than asparagus which is older. Both "green" and "white" fresh asparagus supply vitamin C and significant amounts of the B vitamins. "Green" asparagus also supplies vitamin A. The contributions made to the diet by a serving of green asparagus are similar to those made by green beans or green peas.

There is a trick to cooking asparagus so the stalks are tender and the tips not overcooked. One way is to tie the stalks together and stand them in boiling water that just reaches the tips. Cook about 10 minutes, then cover the saucepan and let the tips cook in steam or, lay the bunch on its side and cook until the tips are tender. In cooking cut pieces, lay the tips on top of the stalk pieces, letting the tips cook in steam while the stalk pieces cook in water. Cook the stalk pieces for about 10 minutes, then add the tips for the last five minutes or so of cooking.

A "Mess of Greens"

Spinach is only one of the "greens" crops, but it is the most important from the standpoint of volume consumed. It is available canned and frozen throughout the year, and fresh for several months each spring and fall. The yearly per capita consumption of commercially grown spinach is about 2 1/2 pounds—fresh, canned and frozen.

In 12 states where spinach is grown commercially, this year's spring crop is estimated at 2.9 million bushels. This is 7 per cent less than was grown in these states last year.

Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri are among the states producing spinach commercially, and nearly a fourth of the commercially canned spinach is processed in the Ozarks region of these states. Due to dry weather, the crop in Missouri is less than half as large as in 1955 but in the other two states it is considerably larger.

Fresh spinach is sold in bulk and in transparent bags. Packaged spinach is washed and trimmed ready to cook. The cellophane bags have a few holes punched in them to give the spinach a chance to breathe, as this lengthens its store life.

In buying fresh spinach, whether bulk or packaged, it is wise to look for young, dark green leaves, and small tender stems. Yellow or wilted leaves and coarse stems indicate that the spinach is old and will be tough.

One pound of fresh spinach will make about three servings. A 10-ounce package of washed spinach will also make about three servings. A No. 2 can or a 12-ounce package of frozen spinach will make about four servings. In comparing price of spinach in different forms, it is necessary to figure price per serving.

The dark green leaves of spinach, and other "greens" crops, are particularly rich in a form of vitamin A known as carotene. Vitamin A is one of the important food nutrients required in rather large amounts. Diet studies show that many children and adults are not getting the amount of vitamin A they need for health.

A serving of cooked "greens" will provide about three times the recommended daily allowance of vitamin A. Green leaves also supply appreciable amounts of vitamin C and the B vitamins. The minerals, calcium and iron, are present in green leaves in greater amounts than in most other vegetables. However, the calcium in spinach, beet greens, and chard is not available for body use because of the oxalic acid present in the leaves. The calcium in mustard greens, turnip greens, and many others, is utilized to better advantage.

Benching The Star Slugger Helps Redlegs

By RIP WATSON
The Associated Press

Benching the team's star slugger may not sound like good managerial strategy, but it's worked wonders for Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Ever since big Ted Kluszewski was benched, the Redlegs have been on a diet of home runs and victories, with five roundtrippers coming last night as they blitzed Brooklyn's faltering Dodgers 10-6 for their sixth successive victory.

The skein has lifted the club from the basement to a 7-5 mark with the leaders of the scrambled National League race.

Wally Post, the major league leader with 8; George Crowe, big Klu's "temporary" replacement; Ray Jablonski and Gus Bell were the home run heroes last night as the Redlegs ran their record to 17 homers in their last six games.

The modern Murderers' Row stole the headlines from the New York Giants' 6-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs in 17 innings, on Daryl Spencer's sacrifice fly, and a 10-victory over Pittsburgh that sent the St. Louis Cardinals to the top of the National League.

Cincinnati and Milwaukee trail by a half-game and the Dodgers and Giants by a full game. Philadelphia and Milwaukee were not scheduled.

In contrast, pitching was the password in the American League with a pair of youthful right-handers, Detroit's Frank Lary and Tom Brewer of Boston supplying all the answers.

Lary knocked the New York Yankees out of first place and blanked the New Yorkers until the ninth inning, coasting to an 8-1 victory behind a 15-hit attack.

Brewer went Lary one better as he shut out Kansas City in hanging up a three-hit, 2-0 victory.

The Chicago White Sox, whose 5-2 record gives a better percentage (.714) than the Yanks .692, were rained out at Baltimore and Cleveland was washed out in Washington.

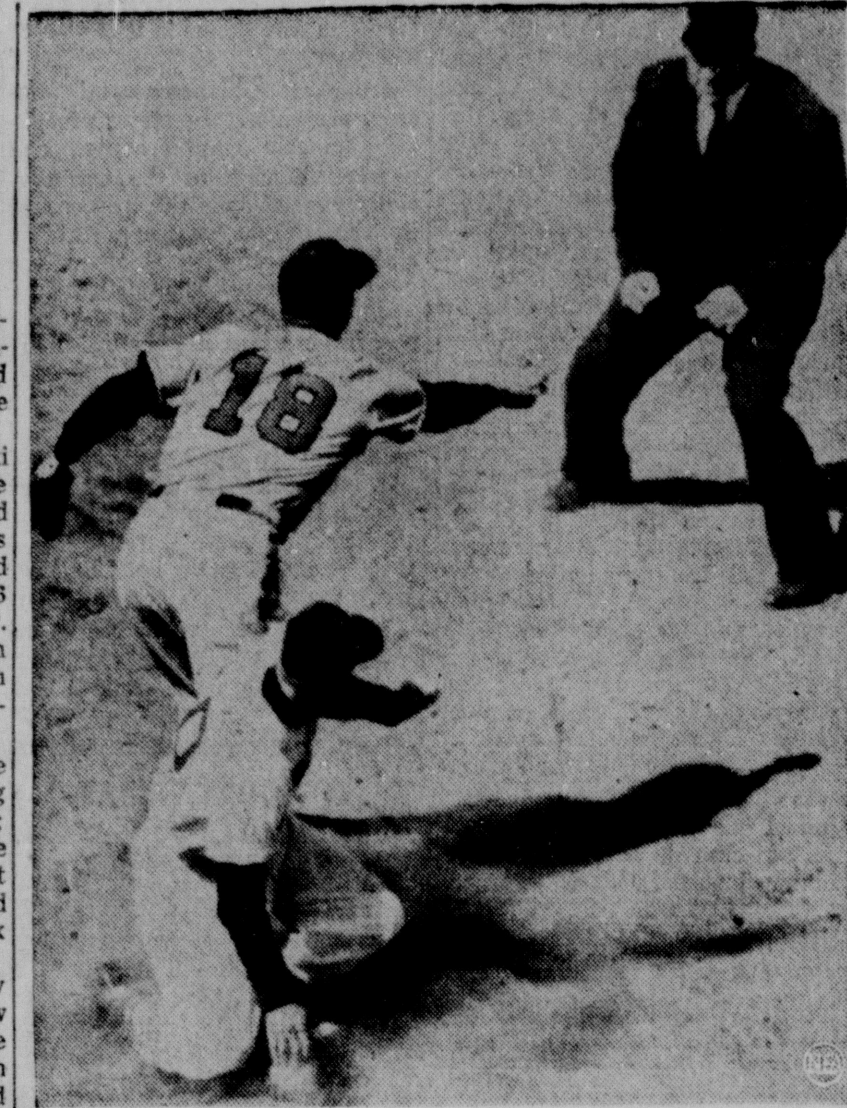

The Giants established a record when they sent 25 men into action against Chicago. The old mark of 24 players was set by Pittsburgh against Boston in 1904 and tied by Brooklyn against New York April 21, 1948.

The Cubs threw 23 men into the fray and the combined total of 48 also was a major league record.

Spencer was the big man for the Giants as he tripped and scored one run, blasted a two-run homer and sent home the winner with his fly.

Stan Musial bagged a grand slam home run for the Cards, but it was a squeeze bunt by light-hitting Alex Grammas that eventually won for the Red Birds in the tenth over Pittsburgh.

Brown was not damaged, Smith, losing his third straight overweight fight, received a cut lip and a swollen left eye. Smith was 8 1/2 pounds over the 135-pound lightweight limit. Brown weighed 139.

OUT AT FIRST—Billy Goodman of the Boston Red Sox is out at first in the fifth inning of the Red Sox-Kansas City Athletics game in Boston, after hitting to first baseman Vic Power who threw to the A's pitcher, Lou Kretlow, who was covering. Kretlow shows the ball to Umpire Hank Soar who called the play. (NEA Telephone)

Freak Accident Injures Sauer Before Game

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"The bat just slipped."

This was all Walker Cooper could bring himself to say in explaining the freak accident which felled veteran Hank Sauer of the St. Louis Cardinals before last night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The 37-year-old Sauer suffered a severe brain concussion, a three inch cut of the lip and his left ear was almost torn off by the flying bat which struck him as he stepped out of the batting practice cage.

Dr. I. C. Middleman, club physician, said he took 12 stitches in Sauer's lip, "about 50" on the ear. He also did plastic surgery on the ear.

Middleman said preliminary X-rays indicated no skull fracture but Sauer will remain in the hospital for observation.

It was a typical pregame scene. On the first pitch, Cooper's bat slipped and struck Sauer in the head. The angular 6-foot-4-inch slugger collapsed.

"What happened?" he mumbled, then quickly slipped into unconsciousness. He was carried away on a stretcher.

No one could say whether the bat flew between the cage netting and its supporting pole or barely cleared the cage completely. The latter was considered most likely. It was a one-in-a-million accident.

Man's Title Changed To Fit His Position

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John T. Murley will get a more fitting title than assistant to the president of Louisville Transit Co. The title had become confusing because the firm had been without a president since January 1955. Murley will be called general manager.

Olson Is Nervous Before Rematch With Sugar Ray Robinson

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Restive and irritable" is the word today from the camp or boxer Bobo Olson as he trains for his rematch May 18 with middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Manager Sid Flaherty disclosed the Olson attitude, noting that it was completely in contrast with his mental reactions preceding the knockout by Robinson and loss of the championship in Chicago last December.

"Olson just couldn't get his mind on boxing in Chicago. He wasn't mad or happy. He was just nothing," said one of his campmates. "Now he's the same as he used to be before a big fight. Nervous, hard to get along with."

Robinson, training at nearby San Jacinto, heard the same reports on Olson. He laughed. "He'll get worse than that," Robinson declared. "I don't think he'll sleep much the last week, thinking of the two times I knocked him out."

Robinson celebrated his 35th birthday today and took a day off from the training grind. He also got a wire.

"Congratulations on your last birthday in boxing. I'll make sure of that. Best regards, (signed) Bobo Olson."

Three Schools Are Placed On Probation

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Auburn, the University of Florida and the University of Louisville are planning to adjust their athletic programs to the probationary status imposed on them yesterday by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

Auburn's probation is for three years, the longest period ever handed out by the NCAA. Florida and Louisville are on probation for two years.

For the first two years, Auburn's athletes will not be allowed to compete in bowl games or any invitational event that supports the NCAA enforcement program. Florida received the same penalty for two years.

Louisville's probation applies only to its basketball team, which won the 1956 National Invitational Tournament.

Dr. Ralph Draughon, president of Auburn, probably summed up the feelings for all concerned when he called the probation "rough stuff."

The head of the Southeastern Conference school added, "I said we'd accept and live by it when the SEC penalized us and we'll try to do the same for the NCAA. We're going to do everything we can to restore the good standing of Auburn."

The University of Louisville vice president, Woodrow M. Strickler, said the school "will make every effort to take whatever steps are necessary to follow the regulations of the NCAA."

He said he thought the probation is "a little bit heavy for the violation we committed."

Fred Kent, chairman of the Florida State Board of Control, said the NCAA's action was "the first indication I have had that Florida was even under investigation."

Since the start of the NCAA enforcement program in 1952, 17 colleges have been put on probation.

The NCAA Council said it found that Auburn's assistant football coach Hal Herring offered excessive financial aid to Harry and Robert Beaubie, twins from Alabama City, Ala., to get them to enroll.

Louisville and the University of Florida were found guilty of offering prospective student-athletes more financial aid than permitted by the NCAA and the Southeastern Conference.

Wichita Defeats Millers 9 to 6 In Night Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A utility infielder with the unlikely baseball name of Ezzard Charles kept Minneapolis' defending American Assn. champions from closing the gap on first place Denver Wednesday night.

Charles slugged a pinch-hit double with the bases loaded to help Wichita break a three-game losing streak in the second game of a doubleheader with the Millers. Wichita took the nightcap, 9-6, after dropping the opener, 7-4. The split left Minneapolis two and one-half games back of idle Denver.

St. Paul climbed into a second place tie with a 5-2 triumph over Indianapolis. Omaha found its scoring punch in a 12-4 victory at Louisville. Denver and Charleston were rained out.

Righthander Alex Konikowski posted his third straight mound victory for Minneapolis though needing relief in the first game at Wichita. Ahead 4-1 entering the sixth inning, the Millers stowed it away on Bill Taylor's three-run homer.

In the nightcap, Wichita set the stage for Charles' timely hit with a double, a walk and a hit batsman to load the bases after two were out in the eighth. Then the 27-year-old pinch hitter looped a soft liner to right field and drove in two runs. Outfielder Earl Hersch, with a pair of homers, drove in three tallies for the Braves.

Record Miler Finds California Track Slow Compared to Others

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Australia's John Landy, holder of the world record for the mile run at 3:58.0, conceded today a fact that track observers here already knew.

The running strip in Memorial Coliseum where he will attempt to break the four-minute mile Saturday is "rather dead."

Landy made the remark under questioning after practicing on the track. He did not mean it as criticism but merely as his opinion.

He also found it "a bit hard." American runners agree. They call the track slow in comparison with some others in this country.

'Dodsworth' Is Success In TV Showing

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—The danger of producing any revival is that it will seem like an old museum piece dusted off for the bored inspection of a later generation. In lesser hands, Sinclair Lewis' "Dodsworth" might easily have appeared a little musty, tired and old hat. After all, the novel was published in 1929. It's an old familiar tale of a middle-aged man fighting to cling to what is true and familiar to him and a wife battling old age so desperately she loses her values and husband in the process.

But there were no lesser hands in the Producers' Showcase version of "Dodsworth" on NBC the other night. From top to bottom it glowed with the talent of old pros and the result was a rich, surprisingly fresh evening. The basic play drawn from Lewis' novel was written by no less a craftsman than the late Sidney Howard. It was adapted for TV by David Shaw and directed by Alex Segal, two of the new medium's brightest talents. It starred Frederick March, Claire Trevor and Geraldine Fitzgerald. Between them, they gave an adult story an adult treatment.

All the actors were extremely effective but this viewer couldn't keep his eyes off March. I kept wondering, is there anything, any role, any scene, any emotion, this man can't play? In bringing to life, big, bluff, spontaneous Sam Dodsworth, retired auto magnate, March covered a broad emotional field with vibrant integrity—as an unabashed American tourist jumping with a small boy's excitement over such attractions as the Tower of London; as a deeply understanding husband tolerating his wife's phoney sophistication and slackening the marital lines as she tries to "find" herself; as a man profoundly hurt, trying to hide his loneliness under a pretense of being drunk or being annoyed with petty details; and, finally, as a man who learns all over again to be true to himself.

The morning after the show, I checked the files on Frederic March and was surprised on two counts. He has been doing movies and plays for almost 30 years. His days as a leading man go back to Greta Garbo and Norma Shearer. He has made more than 60 movies and won only two Oscars—he should have won 20.

Two Women Required To Replace One Man

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Scottsbluff is going to turn the job of ticketing parking meter violators over to the ladies. City Manager Carsten Leikvold last night said two women will be hired to replace the one policeman who now handles the job. Announcing the decision, Leikvold soberly said, "Applicants should be quite healthy. Considerable walking is required."

Doris Day 'Gets Around' In New Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—You can find Doris Day all over town these days.

One day she was at an insurance building in Los Angeles, the next at the Hotel Statler. She has been at a market in Brentwood, an apartment building in Westwood. When I caught up with her, she was playing gin rummy with her stand-in in a modest room of a middle-class apartment in Hollywood.

The reason for all these wanderings is her latest picture, "Julie," a suspense drama that is being filmed in actual locales.

"We don't have one day's shooting inside the studio, unless we might need some process shots," Doris explained.

With all this traveling and shooting in odd places, I wondered if she didn't miss the comforts of a studio.

"Not at all," she said cheerily. "I'm having a ball. It's so stimulating to get out of the four walls of a movie stage and work in real places. And I've been very comfortable too. At the insurance building, they set aside an office for me to relax in. At the Hotel Statler, I had my own suite."

"I have no complaints," she said. "The film we have been getting is wonderful—the real locales give it a note of authenticity."

"As a matter of fact, it wouldn't do me any good if I did complain. I used to be able to go home and complain about the producer of my pictures. Now I go home to the producer!"

He is Marty Melcher, who happens to be her husband.

This method of shooting in real locales has been done before, especially during the era of the semi-documentaries following World War II. Although outdoor locations were used, seldom were films made entirely away from a studio, as with "Julie." Doris claimed much money can be saved thusly, but there is some dispute about this. Though studio rental and set-building is eliminated, there are still salaries to be paid, plus the expense of transporting workers and equipment.

Doris gets to sing but only one song in the picture. She had only two in her last one, "The Man Who Knew Too Much." But she assured that she wasn't trying to escape musicals.

"I'd like to do both," she explained. "I'm going to do 'Pajama Game' next, so that will be an out-and-out musical. After all, I've done non-singing pictures before. I didn't sing at all in 'Storm Warning,' and I had only one small song in 'The Winning Team.'"

Whooping Crane Make History,

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Josephine made big news in the zoological world Saturday when she laid an egg.

Supt. George Douglass of Audubon Park strutted like a new papa and told newsmen the event demonstrated that whooping cranes can breed in captivity.

Josephine and Crip, her mate, are two of the 28 whooping cranes remaining in the world, Douglass said, and the first to produce an egg in captivity.

Josephine added egg No. 2 to the nest yesterday while a photographer was waiting around for a picture of the first.

Dogs Are Protection

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The best protection against unfriendly dogs, reports Postmaster Kenneth R. Hammaker, is a bigger dog.

He said Sacramento postmen, victims in 96 biting cases last year, are trying the system.

"They make friends with the biggest dog in the neighborhood and get that pooch to go along on their route," he said. There's a lot of barking, but no bites.

US Chamber Starts OTC Referendum

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rejecting a direct convention vote, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce set in motion today a referendum among its 3,100 affiliates on whether this country should join the Organization for Trade Cooperation.

By a 227-163 tally, voting delegates to the Chamber's 44th annual convention declined last night to act on a resolution which would have endorsed American entry into the 35-nation OTC.

In so doing, they overrode the recommendations of their 32-member Policy Committee and turned a deaf ear to an indirect plea from President Eisenhower.

OTC has been proposed as an administrative office for the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Congress has never formally approved U.S. participation in GATT, and some members oppose joining the OTC.

The chamber's action means that it probably will not be able to go on record concerning OTC before Congress acts on the controversial question.

The fight to save the resolution endorsing OTC was led by William Blackie, chairman of the Chamber's Foreign Commerce Committee and executive vice president of the Caterpillar Tractor Co., of Peoria, Ill.

He read a letter from Gabriel Hauge, presidential assistant on economic matters, saying Eisenhower "earnestly hopes the Chamber will see its way clear to endorse the principles" of U.S. participation.

Rocket Test Fizzles; New One Planned

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP)—Disappointed Navy scientists, despite a fizzle on their initial try, are planning another attempt at a new rocket altitude record next week.

The first production model of the Aerobee-1 plunged to earth in the southern New Mexico desert yesterday after its main motors failed to fire.

The booster mechanism blasted the research vehicle to only 18,000 feet before it turned its nose down and hit the ground just a mile from the launching tower.

John W. Townsend, Naval Research Laboratory scientist in charge of the launching, said pending analysis of yesterday's failure, the Navy still plans to fire an identical rocket here next Tuesday.

He indicated that next week's shot might lose its connection with the earth satellite program. He said he will consider removing from the rocket's instrument layout a preliminary version of the so-called Mini-track transmitter which will be used in radio tracking of the satellite when it is launched during the International Geophysical Year starting in 1957.

The scientists said they may consider removing other instruments to "get all there is to get" out of the firing.

Just what caused the failure will not be known until after a close inspection of the rocket. Townsend said the main rocket motor never did start and preliminary examination of debris indicated there may have been a failure in the fuel system. He said more research and better design obviously are needed.

Cost of the abortive shot was estimated at $100,000.

Hal Boyle's Column—

Playing Stock Market Seems To Be National Pastime

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—I met an interesting fellow the other day. He wasn't in the stock market.

You hardly run into that kind of person any more. At least not in my circle.

Practically everyone I seem to meet now is "in the market." So is his brother. So is his grandmother.

Baseball used to be the national pastime. Today the stock market is.

You play baseball. But nobody admits he plays the market. It's not cricket to use that term. You don't play the market. You are just "in it."

Who really is in the market? Well, I know a mechanic who is. I know several waiters who are. I know several stenographers who are.

A lady who used to come and help my wife do sewing is. So is the masseuse my wife visits occasionally when she gets a twinge in her neckbone.

In fact, it is probably easier to name those of your acquaintance who aren't in the market than to list those who are. Wall Street has become the real Main Street of America to millions.

Now don't get me wrong. I have nothing against the stock market as an avenue to either security or wealth. I don't regard it a devil's trap for the unwary, nor do I feel that anyone who invests in it is a gambler ridding a hand wagon to his own ruin.

All I ask is that those who are getting rich in it would just do so quietly.

But they don't. It isn't enough that they own stocks. They insist that you have to get into the market, too.

Presumably, they feel that if everyone buys stocks all the stocks will go on up and up—and we'll all be rich together.

What a man did with his money used to be his own secret. Not any more.

"Just what do you do with your money?" strangers murmur to me at cocktail parties.

"Well, some of it I use to light my cigars when I run out of matches," I tell them. "And if I have any left over I put it into U. S. bonds."

You'd think I was a Red conspirator trying to undermine the American way of life.

Work, Sleep, Play In Comfort

Without Naggng Backache

Naggng backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upset or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with that restless, uncomfortable feeling.

If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable, with restless, sleepless nights, don't wait. Try Doan's Pills. Get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Ask for new, large, economy size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

the sports page in the subway, the guy reading over your shoulder asks: "Would you mind turning to the business section? I want to see how Amalgamated Tiddly-winks is doing."

You go to a party and say, "It looks like rain tomorrow," and a bystander breaks in and inquires anxiously: "How do you think that will affect Coagulated Copper, Ltd.?"

Coming home recently after an evening of such conversation, I told my wife: "Wasn't it boring? I'm glad I don't own a share of stock."

"What makes you think you don't, Rover?" replied Frances, who handles the family budget.

This only seems to infuriate them.

The biggest objection I have to the stock market is not that I don't know how to get rich in it (if I did, I would) but that it has done more to ruin the art of conversation than anything since television.

The shop talk of the stock market, once limited to stock brokers and a limited class of customers, now is the shop talk of everyone from bricklayer to banker.

I don't understand the terms. The care and feeding of the bulls and bears is of limited interest to me. I'm not sure of the difference between a long-term capital gain, and an off-tackle smash with the fullback carrying the ball. To me a "blue chip" is still something I toss into the poker pot only when I'm holding four queens.

You can't get away from the stock market. If you're reading

Church Closes Revival

The Green Ridge Baptist Church recently closed a very successful evangelistic meeting, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Ervin E. Benz.

As a result of the revival meetings, five persons were received into the church by baptism and three persons by letter.

The Rev. Benz began his pastorate in Green Ridge in June, 1935, and during that time the church has purchased a parsonage, painted the church building and added 34 new members to the church roll.

Then she retreated into silence.

What I want to know is, can it be possible to be in the stock market—and not even know it?

Working-Girl Cook's Quick Tuick Trick

CHICKEN HASH made with instant cream and frozen potato patties.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Heaven may protect the working girl — but heaven doesn't provide recipes. Our career-lady friends are always asking us to suggest dishes that are speedy to prepare. For lunch recently we served an easy new main dish — Creamy Chicken Hash. It could be used for supper. Diced cooked chicken and frozen potato patties are the main ingredients. Over them goes a sauce made with the comparatively new product, instant cream — so convenient because it can be kept on a pantry shelf. The dish can be baked to a bubbling brown while you set the table and make a salad. Hot crusty garlic bread is also a good accompaniment to the chicken casserole.

Once you try handy instant cream in this sauce, you'll probably want to use it in sauces for other dishes because it adds richness. During the warm weather, you can use instant cream in homemade ice cream sodas and in chilled soups to good effect. Want your biscuits and pastry to have a beautiful golden glaze? Mix a tablespoon of the instant cream with a tablespoon of hot water; brush the mixture on the biscuits or pastry before baking. If there are tea-drinkers in your household we can strongly recommend instant cream for use in a good hot strong cup of that comforting beverage. The quick-frozen potato patties called for in our Creamy Chicken Hash recipe come four to a 12-ounce package. They are made of shredded raw potatoes seasoned with salt and onion, and are rectangular in shape. They should not be thawed before using in the chicken casserole.

CREAMY CHICKEN HASH

Ingredients: ½ cup instant cream, 4 tablespoons flour, 1½ cups seasoned chicken broth (cold or warm), 1 package (12 ounces) quick-frozen potato patties, 2 cups diced cooked chicken (bite-size pieces), grated Parmesan or Romano cheese, paprika.

Method: Stir instant cream and flour together thoroughly in a saucepan. Gradually stir in the chicken broth with a whisk or a fork so mixture is smooth. Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until boiling and thickened. Place frozen potato patties in bottom of shallow casserole; a deep heat-resistant glass pie plate (9½ by 1½ inches) is perfect to use. Arrange chicken over patties. Pour sauce over chicken. Sprinkle generously with grated cheese; Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until top is browned and sauce is bubbly — about 25 minutes. Poke a fork under chicken and sauce and try potatoes to make sure they are cooked. Makes four servings.

WILDLIFE CONSERVATION

WHERE THE ANTELOPE PLAY—A stamp emphasizing the importance of wildlife conservation will be released at Gunnison, Colo., in late June. The pronghorn antelope, subject of the issue, has been protected, studied and transplanted under scientific guidance so that its numbers have increased from a low of 17,000 to herds large enough to allow hunting in five western states. The occasion of the stamp sale will be the annual convention of Colorado's Izaak Walton league.

Add grated cheese and minced onion to mashed potatoes for flavor change.

Thicken a can of stewed tomatoes with a little cornstarch and serve as a sauce for fish fillets.

A cream soup and a jelly omelet, plus bread and butter of course, make a fine lunch for small fry.

Add small cinnamon candies to the syrup in which you are poaching apples.

Can She Serve a Chinese Supper?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

You can pull your company menus out of a rut by allowing the cookery of other countries to influence them. Not hard to do, either.

How about a Chinese-style supper? For a first course we like to add strips of cooked pork and a garlic clove to well-seasoned home-made chicken broth. We remove the garlic just before serving and throw a handful of small young tender spinach leaves into the broth. The spinach leaves may be cut into wide strips if you like, but they should be wilted — not cooked. You can use canned chicken broth instead of the home-made stock. Smash the garlic clove with the heavy blade of a knife, before adding it to the soup, so it will give off lots of flavor but still be removable.

If you want the simple way out for your main course, serve chow mein along with steamed rice and crisp fried noodles. Use the frozen chow mein or buy it from a good Chinese restaurant, if you have one near you. Here in New York, a Chinese family cooks Chinese food to order "to take out." If you live near the family's shop, one of the children will bring the orders to you on the split second you want them; if you live further afield, you have to call for the food yourself.

Instead of the chow mein, you might serve broiled steak with a topping of onions and bean sprouts. A really thick steak that can be carved (in the kitchen) into wide strips after it's broiled. The onions are cut into thin rings or strips and cooked until soft, and golden in butter in a skillet; at the last minute drained canned bean sprouts are heated with the onions and the whole seasoned with a little sugar and soy sauce. The steak strips are arranged on a platter, the onions and bean sprouts spooned over them and the whole platter is ringed with short sprays of water cress and spiral-cut radishes.

With the steak you might serve fresh asparagus cooked only until tender-crisp. Peel the stalks with the thin blade of a swivel-type vegetable peeler and cook in a saucepan or skillet in a small amount of salted water. Drain and swish a square or two of butter over the stalks.

Vanilla ice cream makes a fine dessert for a Chinese-style supper if it is topped with diced preserved ginger (along with a little of the ginger syrup) or with preserved kumquats.

And you won't go wrong if you make up a batch of these Chinese-American Almond Cookies to serve with the ice cream. All our tasters admired the cookies' crisp texture and the hint of almond in their flavoring. No one guessed these crunchy tidbits had rolled oats in them.

CHINESE-AMERICAN ALMOND COOKIES

Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup butter or margarine, ¾ cup sugar, 1 egg, ½ teaspoon almond extract, ½ cup uncooked quick rolled oats, whole unblanched almonds.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. With an electric mixer or wooden spoon, beat butter; gradually and thoroughly beat in the sugar. Beat in egg and almond extract. Stir sifted flour mixture into creamed mixture until blended. Stir in rolled oats so as to distribute evenly. Chill. Shape dough into balls about the size of a walnut; place on buttered cookie sheet allowing 2 inches between each. Flatten balls with the bottom of a glass tied round with waxed paper. (Or use a glass with several thicknesses of cheesecloth wrung out of cold water and tied over its bottom.)

Press a whole almond into the center of each cookie. Bake cookies in a moderate (375 degrees) oven 8 to 12 minutes. Remove from cookie sheets with a wide spatula to cooling rack. When cold, store cookies in a tightly covered container and they will stay crisp. Makes about 40 cookies.

Note: If you want to shape the cookies without chilling and the dough is very soft, keep wetting hands with cold water and you will be able to roll the dough into balls between your palms. In this case, use the cold damp cheesecloth-covered bottom of a glass for stamping cookies flat.

Add dry mustard, Worcestershire sauce and curry powder to a cheese soufflé for interesting flavor.

Moisten finely chopped chicken or ham with a little mayonnaise and season with finely-grated onion. Spread on rounds of cucumber, sprinkle with paprika and center with tiny sprigs of parsley. Nice with tomato juice when company's coming.

Soils and Crops Field Days Will Be June 4, 5

Extension specialists at the University of Missouri have announced dates of the 1956 Soils and Crops Field Days. The annual field days will be held June 4 and 5 on the experimental fields at Columbia.

These Soils and Crops Field Days are designed to give interested persons a chance to see results of various fertility, variety, and other tests being conducted by the soils and crops department at the University of Missouri.

All farmers, vocational agricultural instructors, fertilizer and seed dealers, bankers, and civic leaders are invited.

Counties south of the Missouri River are invited to come on June 4, while June 5 is the day designated for counties north of the River. However, counties can attend either day if necessary.

The program will start each day at 9:45 a.m. at the experimental fields south of Columbia. Lunch will be available on the grounds. Remember the dates, June 4 for counties south of the Missouri River, June 5 for counties north of the River. Plan now to attend one of these Soils and Crops Field Days at Columbia.

Emus have three toes on each foot, the neck and body are completely covered with hairlike feathers, and there are no ornamental wing or tail plumes, for which the ostrich is famous.

Gravitation is a general force by which every particle pulls on every other particle; gravity is the force exerted on a body by the pull of the earth.

Top cupcakes with this pink frosting: Melt one-third cup currant jelly over hot water; add an egg white and three tablespoons of sugar plus a dash of salt. Beat over hot water until frosting stands in peaks. Remove from hot water and continue to beat until good spreading consistency.

Introducing Lever Brothers' new non-dairy spread for bread!

Imperial

Keep in refrigerator to protect perfect flavor

THE FIRST MARGARINE UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED TO TASTE LIKE THE HIGH-PRICED SPREAD!

All you need to do is try it once! You can taste that Imperial is a completely new kind of margarine... a product so superior that it carries a guarantee never before made in all of margarine history. But then, there's never been a margarine like it! Imperial is the first margarine unconditionally guaranteed to bring you the tantalizing flavor formerly found only in the expensive spread for bread.

Imperial's Got That Flavor

Flavor is what's been missing in margarine. And flavor is what Lever Brothers devoted seven years to achieve... seven years of testing formula after formula to bring you the incomparable flavor of the expensive spread for bread. It wasn't hard to make Imperial spread smoother and easier than any other margarine. And it wasn't hard to make Imperial as nutritious as even the most expensive spread you can buy. The trick was flavor. And Imperial is the first margarine to capture and hold that unmistakable flavor everybody loves.

Tastes Like the High-Priced Spread

We know you may find it hard to believe that a margarine could live up to all we claim for Imperial. So, we want you to give Imperial the toughest tests you know. Spread Imperial on bread or toast... use it for seasoning vegetables... plopp a generous chunk of Imperial in your frying pan and set it sizzling with eggs for your fussy husband. Any way, and every way, new Imperial tastes like the high-priced spread.

Aroma to Match That Flavor

Imperial's superiority shows itself in many ways—as a matter of fact—in every way you use it. For instance, when you fry with Imperial, just lean over and sniff its sweet, fresh goodness. Imperial smells so good it makes you hungry just watching it melt. Hot or cold, in your frying pan, or spread on bread, Imperial is the one margarine you'll never have to make excuses for—no matter how fussy the company.

You Agree, or We Return Your Money!

Try Imperial and see. Remember—when you take home a pound of Imperial, you're not buying, you're just trying. Because Lever Brothers unconditionally guarantees Imperial will taste like the high-priced spread to you, or they'll return every penny you spent to try it.

P.S. Like the high-priced spread, Imperial is delicate and perishable. So to protect its perfect flavor, always keep Imperial in your refrigerator!

Bacteriologists Take Step Toward Botulism Vaccine

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

HOUSTON (AP) — New steps toward a vaccine to prevent deadly botulism — and food poisoning — were reported today by the Society of American Bacteriologists.

Botulism is caused by one of the world's deadliest germs. It is often mentioned as an extremely potent weapon of bacteriological warfare, if an enemy spread it through our water or food.

A series of reports by scientists from the biological warfare laboratories at Ft. Detrick, Frederick, Md., point toward a preventive vaccine.

The botulism germs sicken or kill from a poison which they release within the body. There are a number of types of these lethal germs.

One type alone, Type E, caused 17 outbreaks of food poisoning in the last 20 years. These involved 69 persons, killing 21 of them.

It thus seems to be highly lethal. But when the poison or toxin alone from Type E germ is injected into mice, it does not often kill them, the scientists said.

The poison does become lethal, however, if a normal digestive chemical in the stomach — the enzyme trypsin — is added to the poison. The poison becomes, in fact, up to 47 times more deadly.

The action of the trypsin is apparently the reason why these germs become so dangerous when consumed in contaminated food. The normal body chemical enhances the poisonous effect.

Based on this finding, the scientists used trypsin to make potent, purified preparations of the poisons from the various types of the germs.

From the poisons, they could make more potent vaccines against several types of botulism germs.

These have been tested with promising results in laboratory animals.

Optimist Club Holds Music Week Early

National Music Week starts May 6, but the Optimist Club requested their music program a week early because of an out-of-town speaker for next week, to which Mrs. James Jolly, National Music Week chairman from the Helen G. Steele Music Club, graciously agreed. The program was presented by children from the elementary schools, the first being a flute quartet from Horace Mann school composed of Janice Curran, Nancy Wyatt, Carol Kilgledick and Lois Kirby, who played "Pizzicato Polka." They were accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. R. E. Marks

From Mark Twain school Donna Nave played a piano solo, "Russian Concerto" by Rachmaninoff, and Larry Trueman played "Charmaine" by Pollack and Roeppe. He was accompanied by Donna. A second grade youngster from Whittier School, Jerry Cross, with his cap with a light on it and his little spade, very effectively sang: "Sixteen Tons." He was accompanied by Mrs. Donald Donath. Mrs. Jolly stated this was the 33rd annual observance of National Music Week. She was introduced by Lee Deason, program chairman.

ed over the meeting and the invocation was given by the Rev. J. W. Watts. Charles Hanna led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano. Mrs. Russell Drenon was introduced as a guest.

Pasturing Management Is Important

By J. Ross Fleetwood
MU Extension Field Crops Specialist

The weather last fall was rather unfavorable for establishment of pasture seedings. However, a surprising number of successful stands were established and have survived the winter. The best management of these new seedings is important if they are to develop their highest potential future production.

It is usually recommended that such fall seedings should be permitted a period of growth in the spring to strengthen and deepen their root systems. This gives them greater productivity later in the season and enables them to better withstand a severe drought during their first summer.

Due to the dry weather last fall, winter, and early spring, this chance for further development is more important this year than usual. Therefore, the best management would be to let these seedings go without pasturing until after June 1-15. The first growth should be taken off in late May for either hay or grass silage. As soon as the regrowth reaches a height of 4-5 inches, pasturing can be started and carried on at a rate that will maintain 3-4 inches of growth at all times during the season.

One of the advantages of this method is that it removes all growth, weeds, grasses, and legumes and gives the whole field an even start. This will frequently avoid the spot grazing which so often occurs where an uneven growth of various grasses, legumes and weeds are present.

Unfortunately, the same conditions which caused slow growth in the new seedings also held down growth of small grains and existing permanent pastures. Thus in many cases, pasturing from these newly established stands is badly needed and the best method may have to be amended to fit needs of the hour.

In such a case it would be most desirable to follow a system of rotation grazing if size of the area involved justifies it. By means of temporary fences the field can be divided into three areas. The first area is grazed two weeks, then rested four weeks when it is again ready for two more weeks of pasture. Where the area is too small to justify such handling, the area could be grazed for ten days to two weeks, then rest for 3-4 weeks by turning cattle onto some other pasture. This alternate heavy grazing followed by a rest period will permit utilization early with no great risk of permanent damage to the new seedings.

Brome grass and alfalfa are more susceptible to over grazing than are orchard grass, and tall fescue. Ladino is the least likely to be hurt by over grazing.

Good management and normal moisture this season should see these 1956 seedings well established and ready for regular permanent pasture management.

Tour of Hog Farms Planned for May 15

A tour of three hog farms is being planned for Tuesday afternoon, May 15th. All three farms to be visited have been keeping records in cooperation with the County Extension Office and the University of Missouri. William (Bill) Pugh, Extension Animal Husbandryman, from the University will assist with the tour.

Farms to be visited include Stevens McClure of Route 3, Orlin Chappell of Route 4 and Frank Sellers of Route 2. A number of swine breeds will be represented. McClure has Chester Whites; Chappell has Hampshires, Chester Whites and Yorkshires as well as crosses of Chester Whites and Yorkshires and Hampshires and Yorkshires. Sellers started with duros and Hampshires that are now in their second cross with Minnesotas.

Weights of pigs by farms have run from 20 pounds to 50 pounds. The average generally among hog herds is about 30 pounds. Weights of litters at 56 days have varied from 99 pounds on a five pig litter to 513 pounds on a ten pig litter. Farm averages have run from 137 pounds per litter to 430 pounds. One farmer has already sold five sows that were below his herd average of 430 pounds per litter.

More information will be available later and also on the day of the tour.

The cornerstone of the famous Bunker Hill monument on Breed's Hill was laid by Marquis de Lafayette, June 17, 1825.

A mixture of half a pound of baking soda and a gallon of water makes an ideal solution for removing bugs from the windshield and finish of a car.

Albany, capital of New York, is the oldest city in the United States still operating under its original charter.

Safety Rules Can Help Avoid Tornado Injury

Just following a few safety rules can help you avoid personal injury from tornadoes.

First of all, don't panic if you hear a tornado alert warning that includes your area. Chances of a tornado in your vicinity are slight. However, keep tuned to your radio and watch the cloud formations. If a tornado is sighted in your community, the Weather Bureau advises you to keep these safety rules in mind. The best protection against tornadoes is in caves or other underground excavations. A cave or tornado cellar should have an air outlet to help equalize air pressure.

When in open country, move at right angles to the tornado path. If there isn't time for this, lie flat in the nearest depression or ravine. If inside a building, the best protection can be found by standing next to the inside walls on the bottom floor. Stay away from windows. Also, avoid auditoriums or gymnasiums, as they have poorly supported roofs.

In rural schools or homes, seek shelter in basements or storm shelters. If these are not available, protection may be found in ravines or ditches.

Businessmen Think April Disappointing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—May finds many businessmen again reassessing their prospects because for some of them April was disappointing.

It has been a year of wide swings in business sentiment. At the start they were cautious about expecting too much of 1956. Then along in March there was a quick shift to swelling confidence.

Now there are some sober second thoughts. April didn't bring the gains that some industries expected.

Some of the big retail chains report a drop in sales. The auto industry is cutting back output still farther as cars fail to move out of the dealers' hands as hoped.

The weather gets much of the blame. In the eastern third of the nation April was unseasonably wet and cold. In other parts of the land there was a disturbing drought.

Farmers, already hit by a drop in prices, now face the chance of a drop in production as well—with government surpluses acting as a ceiling on any substantial price rises.

If May brings better weather, aids the farmers, spurs car buyers, sends more customers into the stores for spring and summer goods, the picture could change to general confidence again.

As it is, many industries are booming while the others falter. Construction totals are up, bolstered by business spending for new plants, new commercial and office structures, as well as a growing total of public construction of roads, schools and hospitals.

Larger and more expensive homes are being built, and better weather may start total residential building on the upgrade again. The railroads got a freight rate hike in March and start May with increased passenger fares — accounting for the increased interest in rail stocks.

The steel industry continues to operate near capacity — but with sentiment divided as to how much of a letdown, if any, the summer will see.
